Dear friends,

On Sunday, June 12th 2005 at 5 PM, our association will be meeting at the Jeu de Paume in the Tuileries. We will have the pleasure of hearing Nicolas Planchard talk about “Andrei Tarkovsky, the less Soviet of USSR filmmakers?”, along with a presentation by Fabien Swierkacz : “ The poetic gaze around *Stalker ”. Following these presentations will be the screening of a rare document: “Moscow, After Tarkovsky”, 1994, 30’, an interview directed by Charles H. de Brantes with the actor Alexander Kaïdanovski, who played an important role in Stalker.

We are also pleased to announce that MK2 has released Andreï Tarkovsky’s five Russian films: Andrei Roublev, Solaris, Stalker, which can be purchased at a discount rate for members of the association, of 19€ (instead of 29€), along with Ivan’s Childhood, and Le Miroir, for 15 € (instead of 26,39 €). The DVDs will be sold at the regular price at the Jeu de Paume, place de la Concorde. Orders for members to purchase the DVDs at the preferential rate will be taken at the Jeu de Paume on June 12th. You may also place your orders by email and send a payment directly to the Institut Tarkovsky, 6 Rond Point des Champs Elysées, 75008, Paris.

We would also like to add that as of May 25th, 2005, the MK2 Parnasse is screening an Andreï Tarkovski retrospective.

We thank you for helping all current activities towards the Association in view of promoting Andreï Tarkovski’s oeuvre.

Warm regards,

Danièle Hibon
